Workshop: Cliling online: Making the most of digital tools and resources for CLIL

This workshop deals with online tools and resources and how to make use of them in a CLIL context. The main focus will be on providing scaffolding and supporting tools for student participation. We will explore easy to use digital tools, that introduce and revise content and encourage student production. Practical CLIL examples will be presented and participants will have the opportunity to explore these tools and resources in this workshop.
